Summary

I've been doing Frontend development for a year and a half. I'm self-taught and I acquired knowledge through different courses and tutorials. While learning, I was also building my own projects. So far I have built several projects from scratch. As for the language, beside my native language Serbian, I write and speak English fluently. I'm motivated to work, eager to learn new things and always giving my best. My goal is to keep making progress as a developer and upgrade my knowledge.
